“ Your infectious smile would brighten the darkest room, guitar in hand your beautiful soul would bring music and pure joy to everyone around you, your humor was your true gift, we laughed till we couldn't catch our breaths , you brought down the house, you will be in my heart always, always and I will miss you forever and I love you beautiful brother, Sis, Lynn.

I'll miss your laughter.

“ I find it impossible to believe that our friend of 30+ years will no longer stroll up to our back door, with or without a guitar. We have shared so many life events that he is like a member of our family. We have been able to depend on him many times, and hope we were there for him when needed. We'll always have an empty space now he is gone. My husband will miss his best friend, whom he shared his music with. Too many memories. Heather Wilson, Dennis McKeon, and our children, Cara and Rory.

Neal, you will be truly missed; every day when we are all outside, every time I have computer or printer issues, and every time I need a friendly ear. I'm glad someone had a picture of the infamous jacket! Rest in peace my friend. Donna.

Neal, Rest in peace - you will truly be missed. You were always so helpful, and I could count on you to have a clean loaner laptop ready whenever required, no matter how little advance notice you received.

Neal.....it was very sad to go into the office today and not see you across from me. I will miss you in my office, especially when you came in, in your socks, making me laugh, that funny laugh of yours was wonderful or listening to me rant about issues! It still is such a shock, we will all miss your company dearly. Rest now my friend, luv Beth “ Though it was only over the past few months that I got to know you as more than a casual co-worker, I was looking forward to more after hours talks about guitars and music and such. Sadly that is not to be. Rest in peace my friend.

“ Neal, I've known few people in my life that were as friendly, helpful, and approachable as you. I can't say I ever heard you say a harsh word. Always good natured and fun to talk to. I'll miss seeing you at work and know that we've lost a truly good man. Rest well my friend!
